50 Years in Radio
Observed This Year by Joe Tate

PIONEER: Joe Tate this year winds up fifty years in this business of wireless, which has advanced from telegraphy to radio to television.

It was back in 1904 that Joe, then a resident of Ridgway, went to the World Fair at St. Louis and got very interested in a demonstration of wireless.

"Lee DeForest installed a wireless system at the fair," Mr. Tate told me. "They called it a 'rock crusher.' It was a big affair that put out a big spark. They operated the wireless between Forest Park and the Post-Dispatch building up town."

Mr. Tate, who still has his short wave station, 9-BLO, on Landstreet just north of West Poplar, said they wouldn't tell him too much about the wireless setup although he did meet Mr. DeForest personally. But when he went home to Ridgway he put himself up a receiver and sender, nevertheless.

"I installed my aerial up on my dad's lumber yard," he said. "I had four wires four feet apart 75 feet up in the air."

"I didn't have too good a success there," he continued, "but I did pick up signals from NAA at Arlington, Va., and from the Illinois Watch Co. at Springfield."

He said that back in the early days he picked up press association news dispatches off the Springfield station.

He left Ridgway in 1910 and went to Colorado, where he spent some time running a garage and operating a wireless station.

Then he came to Harrisburg with his 9-BLO, which was the original WEBQ.

He got a radio license for WEBQ in 1919 and started the first radio broadcasting from his home in Dorrville. Then R. O. Bourke put in a studio, he rented, on North Vine street, and later he installed a studio in the big bank building.

Mr. Tate related that Dr. H. J. Raley operated the station with success on West Poplar and then he sold the station to George Davenport, who in turn sold it to the bank.

Following the sale of the station, Mr. Tate remained with WEBQ as chief engineer for many years.

Mr. Tate pointed with pride to the fact that Harrisburg had the first radio station in southern Illinois, that now it has the first television station in Egypt.

He himself is still operating 9-BLO as a short wave station and said he belonged to what is called the Illinois Emergency Network.

"Every Sunday morning all of us short wave operators get together and have a roll call," he said. "Come on out and hear it some time."

HUMOR DEPT.: A man who had just returned from a trip abroad was asked by a friend: "Did you see any poverty in the countries you visited?"

"Not only did I see it," he stated. "I brought some of it back with me."

Lions Club Supports City Actions for Adequate Water Supply

The Harrisburg Lions club, in meeting Tuesday evening, went on record giving full support to Harrisburg city officials in their efforts to give the city an adequate water supply.

The resolution included both the construction of proposed Lake Harrisburg, for a permanent water supply, and the piping of water from the Indian Head mine site, as an emergency measure.

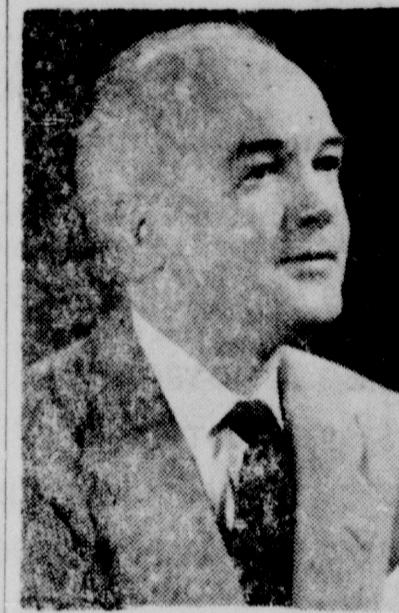

Attorney Arlie O. Boswell Sr., a member of the Lions club, spoke to the club briefly on some of the more interesting and entertaining cases he had worked on during his career as a lawyer.

It was announced that Tuesday, Jan. 26, will be ladies' night.

Arrests Climax
Manhunt for Would-Be
Killers of Labor Leader

DETROIT (UPI)—Three men were arrested and another sought today in what the prosecutor's office described as "the solution" to the attempted assassination of CIO President Walter P. Reuther in his home nearly six years ago.

Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien indicated more arrests would be forthcoming.

"This is the solution," he said, "but I expect further developments."

Four "John Doe" warrants still are outstanding.

The arrests were a climax to one of the nation's biggest and largest manhunts for the would-be killers of the militant union leader who nearly died from a shotgun blast at close range. His right arm is permanently crippled.

Friends for Witnesses

Named to two count indictments were Carl Renda and his father-in-law, ex-convict Santo (Sam) Perrone, both of suburban Grosse Pointe; Clarence Jacobs, Tecumseh, Ont., who jumped bond in an extradition case, and Peter Lombardo, now serving a term at the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., for car theft.

O'Brien refused to discuss the arrests further "for security reasons," indicating he feared for the safety of possible witnesses.

In Atlantic City, Reuther would not comment on the developments. "Any information must come from police," he said.

Perrone, questioned about the shooting in 1951 after Senate Crime Investigating committee hearings here, was not immediately apprehended.

Brother Also Shot

The four are charged with assault with intent to commit murder and conspiracy of assault with intent to commit murder.

Reuther, who then was president only of the CIO United Auto Workers, was shot in the kitchen of his northwest Detroit home April 20, 1948. He fell to the floor in front

Three Negroes Arrested in $160,000 Theft

SPRINGFIELD (UPI)—Slot machine operator Bream Greer, Du Quoin, today faced three years in prison and a $10,000 fine for income tax evasion.

Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle late Tuesday turned down Greer's plea for probation and passed the sentence. He freed Greer on bond and stayed the execution of the sentence until Feb. 1.

Greer, 55, pleaded guilty to evading $62,500 in taxes on 1946 income. Asst. Dist. Atty. Marks P. Alexander said the total due would amount to $93,750, including interest and penalties.

Alexander told the court Greer actually had a "civil liability" of $253,000 in taxes, fines and interest due for the years 1945-47.

Alexander said Greer got into slot machine operations "in a small way" in the early 1930s, his business growing steadily for a decade. Revenue agents said Greer's operations covered most of southern Illinois and described him as the slot machine "king" of Little Egypt.

Greer's "most prosperous years" were 1943-47, Alexander said. He said Greer had to hire "six or seven collectors" to help him, and expanded his operations to include juke boxes and other coin machines.

The prosecutor said while most of Greer's income came from slot machines, he also had invested in more than 1,000 acres of farm land and in buildings valued at "perhaps in excess of $100,000."

Defense Atty. Jack A. Welfeld of Chicago asked for probation for Greer. He said Greer "has conducted himself with integrity."

"He has never been connected with syndicated gambling and did not foist his machines on those who used them," Welfeld said. "They wanted them."

He said Greer had "divested himself of ownership" of any enterprises the court "could find objectionable."

However, Briggle said he understood Greer "still owns a number of slot machines."

"It isn't the kind of case in which I could allow probation," Briggle added. "That's out of the question. That counsel seriously thought I could grant probation I'm surprised. I can't condone the operation of slot machines."

Repair Pump
At Reservoir

Water department employees last night worked and repaired a pump at the reservoir that was getting air but reports today were that the city's distribution system was not affected by the incident.

Landis, 29-year-old bureau employee and a decorated veteran of World War II, and his 26-year-old wife, Mamie, were arraigned Monday. Landis was held under a $50,000 bond and his wife, who denied an active part in the robbery, under $10,000.

Recently Rep. Kerr was appointed to the important State House commission. Appointments of this type usually go to members who have served a number of terms.

Police said Nelson is being held under $5,000 bond. They said none of the 20 bills still missing was recovered from Nelson and that he has not been charged as a participant in the robbery.

Taylor Warns
S. Korea Against
Freeing POWs

8th Army Troops
Will Be Unleashed
If Attempt Made

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—Gen. Maxwell Taylor bluntly warned South Korea today he will unleash his 8th Army against South Korean troops if any attempt is made to free the more than 22,200 anti-Communist prisoners from Indian custody.

The sharply worded statement was made in an official release which will be delivered to the South Korean government tonight.

In the statement, Taylor "noticed" the threat made Tuesday by South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tae that the ROK army might take "some action" if the Indian custodial troops continue their "illegal screening" of the anti-Communist prisoners.

South Korea threatened to take violent action against Indian troops guarding the prisoners because of an Indian "administrative checkup" which sent 135 Chinese back to Communism last Thursday.

Pyun protested the "screening" as a "criminal action in violation of the armistice agreement."

"Come home" explanations officially ended Dec. 23.

The United Nations Command, however, announced that the Indian action was in conformity with the armistice and the U. N. principle of no forced repatriation.

Deadline Nears

Taylor's statement followed secret high level conferences between Taylor, President Rhee, Pyun and U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs.

It was believed the statement was issued because South Korea refused to guarantee that ROK troops would make no move to free or assist the prisoners before the Jan. 23 deadline.

As the deadline neared, the United Nations and Communists commands continued to differ on what constitutes the deadline for release of all war prisoners who have refused to go home.

The U. N. command announced that it regarded 12:01 a. m., Jan. 23, as the absolute deadline for holding the prisoners. U. N. authorities pointed out the Korean armistice fixed this deadline.

According to the armistice, the Indians were authorized to hold the prisoners for 120 days—during the 90-day explanations period which ended Dec. 23 and then for 30 more days while a Korean political conference debated their fate.

But the Communists insist on holding the prisoners beyond the Jan. 22 deadline because the Korean conference never was convened.

Speaker Rayburn Is 72 Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, who holds the record for length of service as speaker of the House, celebrated his 72nd birthday today.

Rayburn, who was born Jan. 6, 1882 in Roane County, Tenn., was first elected speaker on Sept. 16, 1940. He served in that capacity until 1947, when the Republicans took over control of Congress for two years. He was reelected speaker in 1949 and served until the Republicans again took control with the Eisenhower administration in 1953.

He has been a member of the House since March 4, 1913, and now holds the distinction of being the only member of Congress serving for more than 40 years.

Death Valley Scotty, 81, Legendary
Character, Dies in Famed Castle

DEATH VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—Scotty, the legendary spender who foisted the world for more than 30 years with a story of a hidden gold mine, died Tuesday night in the 3-million dollar mansion known as "Death Valley Scotty's Castle."

Scotty, a legendary spender who died in one of the world's most desolate and inhospitable regions, was 81 when death came in his huge four-poster bed after a short illness.

Dr. E. Basse Wallace, of Las Vegas, Nev., his physician, said the fabled "desert rat" died of a hemorrhage of the gastro-intestinal tract.

Scotty, whose real name was Walter E. Scott, was born in Covington, Ky. At the age of five, his family moved to northern Nevada and his desert life began.

He became a tall hand at 12, and got his first glimpse of California's Death Valley, a below-sea-level desert, while driving a herd of cattle across it. He was water boy for the first party surveying the 140-mile long wilderness.

At 15, he joined Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show and toured the world as a daredevil rider.

Scotty's secret gold mine turned out to be a "two-legged" one, as he put it, in 1941, when he was very ill.

"I've lent him a great deal of money," Johnson said. "and he's paid me back in laughs. I've been paying his bills for years and liking it."

Sen. Mundt Asks
Full Scale
Security Group

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) proposed today that the Senate create a "full-scale" internal security committee and give it specific authority to investigate Communists and other subversive activities.

Mundt said the purpose of his proposal is to "intensify" the campaign against subversion and not to curb the Red-hunting activities of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's Permanent Investigating Subcommittee. The effect, however, apparently would be to reduce McCarthy's Communist inquiries by setting up a new permanent Senate committee.

Mundt is a member of McCarthy's subcommittee. Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) is chairman of the Internal Security Subcommittee which, under Mundt's plan, would be given full committee status and specific jurisdiction over internal security matters.

Hancock has served as city judge the past term and Mrs. Wirth was reelected judge of the Harrisburg city court and Donna J. Wirth was elected city clerk.

A total of 138 votes was cast in the city-wide election as little interest was shown because neither candidate had an opponent. Hancock received 136 votes, Mrs. Wirth 127. There were no write-ins.

Hancock has served as city judge the past term and Mrs. Wirth was reelected judge of the Harrisburg city court and Donna J. Wirth was elected city clerk.

The will begin their new six-year terms as soon as they qualify. The vote is scheduled for a canvass by the city council Thursday and as soon as this is done the results will be sent into Springfield. Then the two will receive their commissions and will begin their new terms some time around the middle of January.

According to the armistice, the Indians were authorized to hold the prisoners for 120 days—during the 90-day explanations period which ended Dec. 23 and then for 30 more days while a Korean political conference debated their fate.

But the Communists insist on holding the prisoners beyond the Jan. 22 deadline because the Korean conference never was convened.

R. H. Hodges, 57,
Brother of Mrs.
Carrie Swinney, Dies

R. H. Hodges, 57, brother to Mrs. Carrie Swinney of Harrisburg, died at his home in Springfield at 1:30 this morning.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, James and Robert Hodges, and the following brothers and sisters: Ben Hodges, East Alton, Illinois; Gerard, athletic coach at Murray State College in Kentucky; Mrs. Henry Borah, Springfield, and Mrs. Carrie Swinney, Harrisburg.

He was in Harrisburg last Sunday visiting with his sister, Mrs. Swinney. His death was due to a paralytic stroke.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
 All of them wax old as a garment; as a vesture shall thou change them, and they shall be changed. — Ps. 102:26.

The sensible universe will ultimately be destroyed scientists tell us, but the psalmist was sure God's people would endure after the world had been changed and forgotten. We have a glorious future.

The WASHINGTON
 MERRY-GO-ROUND

BY DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Wall Street Thinks Ike Drifting Too Far To Left; President Listens To His Staff Now; More Than To Millionaires; Conservative Republicans Oppose Ike's Pension Plan.

WASHINGTON. — If you talk to Wall Street or to certain conservative GOP leaders today you would almost think that Franklin D. Roosevelt was in the White House. This results from the liberal advisers now influencing Ike and is the biggest change to come over the administration as it prepares to do battle with Congress.

One year ago the President leaned almost exclusively on millionaire businessmen for advice. Gen. Lucius Clay of Continental Can, Sidney Weinberg of the Goldmann-Sachs investment firm, Alton Jones of Cities Service, were not only golfing partners but business advisers. Today he still sees big-business advisers, but relies more on his White House staff.

Even millionaire Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, rated the closest cabinet member to Ike, does not have quite as much power as before.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS

Significant illustration of what Eisenhower is up against from GOP reactionaries and big business is the current backstage battle over old-age pensions. This affects several million oldsters, though few people understand what's been happening. Here are the two opposing factions battling inside the Republican party:

Faction No. 1 — The White House wants a liberalized social security bill with a $10 increase of old-age pensions, but paid for by spreading the salary base on which the wage-earner is taxed.

Faction No. 2 — Is headed by Congressman Curtis of Nebraska with the quiet support of Congressman Dan Reed of New York. They want liberalized pensions, but have adopted the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Plan of paying for them by dipping into the trust fund already accumulated. This would make farmers and others, who originally said they didn't want pensions, now benefit from the funds deducted from the salaries of wage-earners.

Important for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, this plan would reduce the general tax burden paid by business.

However, not even all Republican members of Curtis' subcommittee studying Social Security will accept the U. S. Chamber of Commerce formula. Here is the inside story of what happened.

When Nebraska's Curtis was made chairman of the subcommittee to study social security, he carefully avoided putting Bob Kean of New Jersey, a Republican who is an expert on the subject, on his committee. Instead he picked Republicans whom he described as "unprejudiced," but who actually knew little about pensions. They included GOP Congressmen Baker of Tennessee, Goodwin of Massachusetts and Tom Curtis of St. Louis, Mo.

BIG BUSINESS STAFF

But he also picked a staff thoroughly prejudiced — in favor of the U. S. Chamber. They included: Rita Ricardo Campbell, wife of the U. S. Chamber's No. 2 economist; Howard Friend of the Indiana Chamber of Commerce which has now made the Indiana unemployment compensation program one of the weakest in the nation; and Karl Schlatterback of the Brookings Institute, long an opponent of Social Security.

Also on the Curtis staff are Howard Metz of the Brookings Institute, a rabid critic of Social Security and a drafter of the Taft-Hartley act; and W. R. Williamson, formerly with Travelers' Insurance, but who has become so vigorous in his views that he has parted company from insurance groups.

This staff has now brought out a report. However, the congressmen for whom they made the report, namely the subcommittee, did not issue the report. And the reason they did not issue it is that Chairman Curtis knew he couldn't persuade them to sign.

Curtis himself issued a report, but not his committee. However, Resolution 243 instructing the Ways and Means committee to study Social Security did not say it wanted a report from a staff. It specified that it wanted a report from congressmen themselves. Yet they haven't issued one.

Reason they haven't is that the staff report proposes transferring those on state relief rolls to the Federal Security $18,000,000,000 Trust Fund. Also it would let new pensioners, not having paid into this fund, benefit from what others paid in previously.

This would save the Federal government money and reduce taxes to business, but White House advisers consider it inadvisable. The battle illustrates the cross fires Ike faces inside his own party.

McKinley Baptist Has Fellowship Dinner for Pastor, Deacons

The deacons, pastor, and their wives of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met together for their quarterly fellowship dinner Tuesday evening.

A delicious dinner prepared and served by the committee was enjoyed by the following Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hendren, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gibbons, R. W. Burroughs, Leo Reed, Earl Hicks, Kenneth Smith, Charles Dearing, Mrs. Ruby Hilliard, Mrs. I. C. Dennis, Mrs. Mary Walker, Rev. and Mrs. George B. Leathers and daughter, Frances. Four deacons were absent, two because of illness, and two because of work.

During the fellowship period following the dinner, a testimony service was conducted by the chairman, Mr. Hendren. The trend of the testimonies was to express appreciation for the fine work and leadership of the pastor, personal regret for his leaving the church, and well-wishes for success in his new field of service.

Rev. Leathers accepted a call from the Kaskaskia association to serve as missionary to that association in December and will leave the McKinley Avenue Baptist church following his final service Jan. 17.

Saline County Rural Carriers And Families Have Potluck

The Saline county rural carriers and their families held a potluck supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Harris, Galatia, Saturday night.

Mrs. Icil Butler, president of the auxiliary, conducted the meeting. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. M. King, Mr. and Mrs. Red Abney, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Edwards and son, all of Eldorado. Mr. and Mrs. Icil Butler and Carol Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Stag Shewmake and Kenny, Mrs. Mary Lois Bynum and Mary Jo, all of Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gunter and Karen, Galatia, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Harris.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Edwards in Eldorado April 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Bruce, Bloomington, returned home after spending the holidays with Mrs. Bruce's mother, Mrs. H. C. Somers, 505 North Main, and Miss Gertrude Somers and other relatives and friends.

TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra M. Guard of Dorris Heights plan to celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary with "open house" Sunday, Jan. 10, and all their friends, neighbors and former neighbors are invited to attend from 2 p. m. till 6 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Guard were married in 1904 in the old Wilmeth home where they now live just west of the fairgrounds on Dorris Heights road. They were married by Rev. A. S. Maxey who was pastor of the First Methodist church at that time. Bert Guard was best man, and Daisy Dorris, bridesmaid. Mrs. Guard is the former Myrtle Wilmeth. Mearl and Gordon Guard are the only children, and they have three grandsons and one granddaughter.

In Memoriam

In memory of my husband, Dallas Hale, who was killed Jan. 6, 1953. I have lost my life's companion. A life linked with my own. And every day I miss him more. As I walk through life alone, The call was short, shock severe. To part with one I love so dear. No one knows the silent heartaches. Only those who have lost can tell Of the grief I bear in silence. For the one I love so well. I never knew that hearts could ache. With such a bitter pain, Longing for a vanished face, To hear his voice again. I never knew that things could be So lonely, cold and dim. But oh, I learned so many things Because of losing him. If all the world were mine to give, I would give it all and more. To see his face I love so dear, Come smiling through my door. Sadly missed Your Wife and Children. *159-1

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our father and grandfather, Newt Hankins, who has been gone 8 years today, Jan. 6, 1946. His evening sun has set. Many stars are shining bright, Resting until the morning. When there will be no more night. Sadly missed by Children and Grandchildren. *159-1

BUICK OFFERS COMPLETE NEW LINE FOR '54 — An outstanding beauty among the completely new line of cars which Buick offers for 1954 is the two-door Super Riviera pictured above. With a rakish sports car styling modelled after Buick's famed Skylark, the Riviera features a new panoramic windshield, a cut-down door belt line, full rear-wheel cut-out and a refined sweeppear molding. It has a completely new front end, all new styling, new instrument panel, new rear fender, and new interiors. It is mounted on a 127-inch wheelbase and is powered by a 182-horsepower V-8 engine when equipped with Twin-Turbo Dynaflow. Wire wheels are offered as optional equipment. The new models will be displayed by Tom Endicott Buick Co., South Granger street.

Buick Announces Completely New Line Of 1954 Automobiles in Four Series

Buick today announced a completely new line of automobiles for 1954, studded with the most revolutionary styling changes since the introduction of streamlining.

The new Buicks come in four series with all new, roomier bodies, beautiful new exterior and interior styling, longer wheelbases, panoramic windshields, and more powerful efficient V-8 engines.

The new automobiles will be displayed by Tom Endicott Buick Co., local dealer.

The Special Series makes its debut in the V-8 class in 1954 with a brand new 150 horsepower engine modelled after the valve-in-head V-8 introduced in the Roadmaster and Super Series last year. Horsepower in the Roadmaster has been boosted from 188 to 200, and in the Super from 170 to 182.

New also to the Buick line for 1954 is the Century Series, designed to sell in the price range between the Special and Super. The Century, which features a 200 horsepower Roadmaster engine mounted on a 122-inch wheelbase, has a very high power-to-weight ratio and is the outstanding performer in the Buick line.

All steel estate wagons are available for the first time this year in the Century and Special series. Among outstanding styling features in addition to the new panoramic windshield are full rear-wheel openings and sloping door line on all two-door Riviera and convertibles, built-in sun visor.

Interior styling has been enhanced by a new, double roll instrument panel, similar to the one on Buick's experimental Wildcat. A new speedometer, unique in the entire industry, is featured on the Roadmaster and Super Series. Speed is indicated by a red line that moves horizontally across a scale graduated from 0 to 120 miles per hour.

New styling also is featured throughout the interior with many new combinations of colors in nylon, broadcloth, corduroy and leather.

The new V-8 engine in the Special has the same overall dimensions as the V-8 in the Roadmaster and Super. The Special V-8 has a 264 cubic inch displacement and an 8.1-to-1 compression ratio in Dynaflow-equipped cars. In cars equipped with standard transmission, the compression ratio is 7.5-to-1.

Both Dynaflow and safety power steering continue as standard equipment on the Roadmaster Series and optional on all others. Swing-out door hinges provide up to one and one-half inches more entrance room to the front compartment of all 1954 Buicks.

The new line comes in 15 models with six horsepower ratings and two wheelbases. All Roadmaster and Super models are mounted on a 127-inch wheelbase. Special and Century models are mounted on a 122-inch wheelbase, an increase of one-half an inch.

The Skylark, which has been completely restyled for 1954, is powered by the 200 horsepower Roadmaster engine.

Jobless Persons Increase in U. S. To 1,850,000

WASHINGTON — The Commerce Department reported today that the number of unemployed in December increased by 422,000 over November and passed the jobless figure for December, 1952.

The department said it was the only time in 1953 that the number of jobless for one month was greater than for the comparable month of 1952.

The report showed 1,850,000 unemployed last month compared to 1,428,000 in November and 1,425,000 in December, 1952.

The department said 60,764,000 persons held jobs last month, compared to 61,925,000 in November and 61,900,000 in December, 1952.

The department said the rise in unemployment was "a good deal less" than the drop in employment mainly because many farm workers withdrew from the labor force—the number of persons holding jobs or looking for them. The number of factory workers out of jobs also continued to increase.

But, the report said, the proportion of all civilian workers without jobs and looking for them—3 per cent—was "about as low as in any December since World War II except for last year and was well under the 1949-50 levels."

Wholesalers Boost Coffee Prices

NEW YORK — Coffee drinkers may expect to see the retail price go well above the $1 a pound mark before long.

Wholesalers boosted prices another 3 to 4 cents a pound today.

Distributors attributed the rise to a tightening world supply picture, resulting largely from a frost-damaged Brazilian crop, and a consequent price rise at the producing end of the line.

The Maxwell House brand of General Foods Corp. has been upped 3 cents a pound wholesale. Several leading chain grocers raised retail prices on their own brands as much as 4 cents a pound.

Three Arrested In Reuther Shooting

of his wife Mae, muttering "those dirty bastards."

A year later, his brother Victor was the victim of another assassination attempt. He was shot while sitting in the living room of his home. He lost an eye to shotgun pellets that peppered his head.

Rewards totalling more than $200,000 still are outstanding for the would-be killers. UAW special detectives have worked ceaselessly on the case. Police are convinced the parties behind the two assassination attempts are the same, although the "trigger men" may have been different.

Son-in-Law of Perrone

Renda, a college graduate who has no police record, was arrested at his home. He was to be arraigned at 10 a. m. He refused to discuss the charges without his attorney, but did say "I don't know Walter Reuther."

He is the son-in-law of Perrone, an ex-convict, who in 1951 was sentenced by the State Crime Investigating Committee as the "muscle man" in labor relations at Briggs Manufacturing Co., an auto supplier firm.

Brecken Specter

From the top of the Brocken, highest peak of the Harz Mountains, in Germany, one can see his shadow against the eastern sky at sunset. The phenomenon is known as the Brockengeist, or "specter of the Brocken."

He is the son-in-law of Perrone, an ex-convict, who in 1951 was sentenced by the State Crime Investigating Committee as the "muscle man" in labor relations at Briggs Manufacturing Co., an auto supplier firm.

Walter Reuther

Thousands of tips were tracked to futility. One of the few prized clues is a shotgun the gunman dropped after pulling the trigger on Victor. It was traced to a West Coast supplier but there the trail faded.

Walter was elected to his second term as president of the CIO last year. He retains his position as head of the 1,250,000 member auto union.

A nation-wide alarm was sent out for 58-year-old Perrone, last seen in Detroit Tuesday. A native of Sicily, he came to the United States in 1912 and received his citizenship papers in 1922. He received a six-year sentence in 1937 for bootlegging, and in 1952 pleaded guilty to conspiring to prevent workers from joining a union at the Detroit-Michigan Stove Co. He was fined $1,000 and placed on two years' probation.

Jacobs once worked for Renda and Perrone in a gasoline station they owned across from the stove factory. He is being held in Canada on a technical charge of extradition violation.

If he refuses to come to the United States voluntarily, federal extradition will be sought, O'Brien said. He operates a television business in Windsor. Although he has a lengthy American police record, Canadian authorities said it was not known immediately whether he had even been arrested in Canada.

Lombardo has a year left to serve of a five-year term in Leavenworth, for transporting stolen cars across state lines.

Perrone was linked to the Reuther shootings in the crime committee hearings here. At that time he was asked whether he knew Melvin Bishop, former UAW director and in 1947 head of the UAW's Briggs department.

Perrone swore he did not know him, but it was revealed Bishop had been his guest at a hunting cabin in November, 1947, and he had been arrested for "shining deer."

Ballot Soon For Hollywood Film Awards

By ALINE MOSBY

United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ballots to launch Hollywood's "political" season—the famed academy awards—will be mailed out next week, and I pick Burt Lancaster, Audrey Hepburn and "Shane" as top favorites for the honors.

This year 425 movies, their stars and makers are eligible for the statuettes, having been shown in the Los Angeles area by Dec. 31.

But only a handful of quality pictures are considered in line for Oscar nominations, to be voted on Jan. 14 and announced Feb. 15.

Lancaster is getting wide pre-election support for his role as the tough sergeant in "From Here to Eternity." But the pixie-faced Miss Hepburn, star of "Roman Holiday," holds her popular support by a thin margin.

Her strong competition in the final balloting, with winners to be revealed at the awards ceremony March 25, probably will be Deborah Kerr in "From Here to Eternity," Jean Simmons also is a surefire nominee for "The Actress," "Young Bess," "The Robe."

To Televise Ceremony

Others whose performances are being acclaimed for honors are James Mason and John Gielgud for "Julius Caesar," Leslie Caron for "Lili," Spencer Tracy for "The Actress," William Holden for "Stalag 17," Jane Wyman for "So Big" and Van Heflin for "Shane."

Though this was the year of 3D and super-wide screen pictures, most of 1953's best films were in plain 2D, and many of them black-and-white. The makers concentrated more on story and less on how wide the lens was.

The movies rated in line for Oscars, besides "Shane," include "From Here to Eternity," "The Living Desert," "Lili," "Julius Caesar," "The Little Fugitive," "Stalag 17," "Little Boy Lost," "Roman Holiday," "The Robe," "Man on a Tightrope," "Coronation of a Queen" and "The Conquest of Everest."

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences announced the awards ceremony will be televised next March for the second year.

Two Argentinians In Old Auto Arrive in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Two Argentine travelers who coaxed their wheezing model T Ford on a 30-month trip to Detroit said today all they wanted to do was relax because the "pace has been too fast."

Jose Fernandez, 73, and his son, Ramon, 29, arrived in the Motor City late Tuesday on the last leg of their 23,000-mile journey from Rio Negros, Argentina. They began the trip in July, 1951.

When asked about his impressions of the United States along the way, Jose replied through an interpreter:

"We were hurrying too much to notice."

"This seems to be a nice country but we never get a chance to see it because people are always bothering us," always men taking pictures," he said.

The travelers were warmly received by Ford Motor Co. officials, who assumed the role of hosts. Today's schedule included a tour of the giant River Rouge auto plant.

Three are Taken To State Farm

Carl Hill of Walnut Grove, James Burklow of near Carrier Mills and James H. "Lucky" Thompson of Robinson were taken to the state farm at Vandalia yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Ebert May.

Each was sentenced to a year on the state farm when arraigned in county court here. Hill was sentenced for violation of his probation, Burklow for passing a fraudulent check and Thompson for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

U. S. HIGHWAY 45

THE STORY: A "bulging briefcase" is an important clue in the murder of District Attorney Barnett Larkin. Both the briefcase and Dina, Larkin's wife, are missing. Dina was last seen taking the briefcase to the home of her ex-husband Paul Flagg, a suspect in the murder. Paul knows nothing of the briefcase but he is asked to turn it over to his lawyer, Politician George Maudson, a gangster, Willie Shad, and Hannah Rahn, daughter of a congressman. Even investigating officers seem to think Paul has the briefcase.

Hannah Rahn flowed toward me, against me, and her hands were on my chest. "Paul, I know you're trying to protect Dina. But you're going about it the wrong way. My father has influence."

"Everybody has influence." "George Maudson can do anything, and he will. My father and George both. What do you want?"

"There's nothing I want," I said savagely.

She stepped back, flinching as if from a blow. And her eyes were like gray-blue ice and her skin was taut over the cheekbones.

"At least," she said woefully, "you admit that you have that briefcase."

"I don't admit a thing. If you were Willie Shad, I'd tell you to get out."

She picked up her coat and stalked to the door. Her profile was impassive as she passed me and I wondered why women had the power to make a man, however right he was, feel like a heel.

She didn't open the door when her hand was on the knob. She paused for a last word, like Willie Shad, like anybody who was too desperate to give up trying. "Your gun doesn't frighten me," she said as she left.

We had fine seats in a box behind third base. Joey was never quiet, yelling at every long fly and hurling derision at the umpires and the opposing players; and the Raventon Tigers came through in the eighth with a five-run rally that meant the agame. After the game, we headed southeast, and before we had driven a block, a red car appeared in my mirror.

We stopped at a roadside restaurant. When I pulled into the parking area beside the stucco building, the car stopped at the side of the road. I said to Joey,

"Wait here a minute," and sauntered over to the other car.

I knew all of West Amber's small police force by sight, so the man in the car was probably a county or state cop. His face was just a middle-aged face, and his eyes were carefully not interested in me.

"Uh-huh." The private detective stepped into the living room and thoughtfully closed the door behind him. His brown eyes, set rather deep, shifted about as if looking for something. He said: "Was it Miss Paley or the people upstairs who told you my name?"

"Martha. She couldn't wait to tell me she had a crush on you."

I shook a cigaret out of a pack. "What's your offer—a bribe or a threat?"

"I don't know if either would do any good," Ben Helm said. "Randolph and Handy tried bullying. Maudson tried pressure. Willie Shad tried a substantial bribe. Hannah Rahn—I'm not sure, but sooner or later an attractive woman tries to cash in on her sex appeal."

awakened me. I put on slippers and robe and went to the door. It was five minutes to 11.

A man smoking a pipe stood outside. "Good morning, Mr. Flagg," he said as affably as a salesmen.

"Come in, Helm."

BRUSHY

The Good Neighbors club held its family night Saturday with a potluck. A number of games, and much visiting followed the meal. The group returned temporarily to school days by participating in school games which everyone enjoyed. They might have quoted "Turn back, turn back, O, time in your flight, and make me a child again, just for tonight."

Union Chapel's watch night meeting was well attended. Rev. Vola Sittig led the group in singing and gave the devotion on "Time." At eleven o'clock, refreshments were served in the basement, and the new year was prayed in by group.

Mrs. Mary Riegel visited Mrs. Lucy Holland Sunday.

Mary Margaret Small spent the week end visiting her cousin, Opal Patterson.

Mrs. David Lewis is the leader of midweek services at Mt. Moriah.

The eggs of sturgeons are not taken for caviar when the female is ready to spawn, but at an earlier period, when the roe is hard. A large female may yield as much as 15 gallons, or 2,000,000 eggs. Because the sturgeon is such a valuable prize, it is becoming very rare.

19 Grid Deaths During Season

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The number of football deaths nearly doubled in 1953 but there is "no evidence" that this is due to the return to one-platoon football, a special football coaches committee reported today.

A total of 19 gridiron players lost their lives last season as compared to only 10 in 1952, said Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, chairman of the committee on injuries and fatalities in a report to the convention of the American Football Coaches Assn.

However, Dr. Eastwood emphasized that the total of 19 was "26 per cent under the average of all years since 1931 when the first study was made" and he stated that "the fatality trend is down over the years."

"No conclusive evidence was found that the single or double platoon systems had any effect on fatalities," said Dr. Eastwood. But he noted there was "increased roughness" in 1953 games and called on coaches for "more attention to training techniques" and on game officials "for more careful rule decisions on the field."

The report noted that of the 19 deaths last season, 13 were "directly" the result of playing football and six were "indirect."

Of the six "indirect" deaths, four were due to heart attacks and two to other causes. Of the 13 "direct" deaths, only two occurred in college play, six in high school, two in professional or semi-professional, and three in sandlot or unsupervised play.

Wilkinson is Named UP Bowl Grid Coach

NEW YORK (UPI) — This was greenest squad — 42.5 per cent sophomores.

It was his toughest schedule. Notre Dame, Pittsburgh and Texas were the first three opponents. And from the day the grid lid was lifted injuries plagued him all the way. He had to use virtually a different backfield combination in every game. And he had to wind up playing the national champs on New Year's Day.

He's the United Press bowl coach, Charles (Bud) Wilkinson of Oklahoma who credited "the team spirit of a bunch of guys named Joe" for their upset 7-0 triumph over Maryland in the Orange Bowl. That was about all Wilkinson had to say, but Oklahoma President George L. Cross was so elated he remarked that "We're going out and build a university that the football team can be proud of."

"This was the sweetest victory we've had since I've been associated with the university," Cross said.

'Rabbit' Maranville, Sparkplug of 'Miracle Braves', Dies of Heart Attack

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walter J. Maranville, sparkplug of Boston's "Miracle Braves" of 1914 and one of the greatest "little men" in history of baseball, died here suddenly early today of a heart attack.

Maranville, 62, was stricken at his home about 12:21 a. m. and died almost instantly. His death came as a surprise, according to his personal physician, because he had been in apparent good health and only Tuesday evening went out for a drive and dinner.

The 5-foot, 5-inch pepperpot of the diamond is survived by his wife, Helen. Funeral plans were not announced.

The fiery, prank-loving Maranville was one of the most popular diamond heroes ever to wear the uniform of the old Boston Braves. Through 23 years in the big leagues, a period including the end of the "dead ball" era and the beginning of the "live ball" modern days, he was known for his brilliant fielding, timely hitting, and his antics on and off the field.

In addition to the Braves, he played with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Brooklyn Dodgers, Chicago Cubs, and St. Louis Cardinals and was player-manager of the Cubs for a brief time in 1925.

Played With 1914 Braves

But his greatest fame, of course, stemmed from the 1914 season when the Braves, in last place on July 4, amazed the baseball world by rallying to win the National League pennant and then, as heavy underdogs, to whip the star-studded Philadelphia Athletics in four straight games in the World Series.

In that fabulous drive, the brilliant shortstopping of Maranville—with his trademark catches of pop flies against his stomach—was a major factor. And he batted .308 in the World Series against the A's. Fourteen years later he was

Galatia Holds Off Fourth-Quarter Rally to Beat Eldorado, 77 to 74

Age-old rivals Galatia and Eldorado thrilled a packed house at the Bearcat gymnasium last night with Coach Bob Farris' host cagers staving off a fourth-quarter Eldorado comeback to win, 77-74.

Galatia held an 11-point lead early in the final canto, but the Eagles, sparked by the shooting of Ronnie McRoy, fought a never-say-die battle. The Eagles closed the gap to a mere two points in the last 45 seconds, but Galatia froze onto the ball, Bob Orto gaining a free toss to ice the game.

Eldorado opened the fireworks, connecting on its first four shots at the hoop. The Eagles led most of the first quarter with the Bearcats overhauling them to take a 20-17 lead late in the period. The Eagles knotted the score at 20-all as the quarter ended.

Galatia Leads at Half
In the second period, it was the Farrismen who opened fast, and the home boys plunked in four of their first five tries from the field. This gave them a big 28-20 advantage that the Eagles never could overcome completely. Galatia held a 10-point margin on their opponents at one time in the period and wound up at the intermission with a 44-36 edge.

During the third quarter, Eldorado made its first bid to erase the Galatia lead and pulled within four points of the Cats. Galatia recovered to move away to an 11-point lead again, only to see Eldorado's Mackovjak sink three fielders in succession to cut the margin to five points. Galatia finished the quarter strong, holding a 60-51 advantage.

The Bearcats led 66-55 with six minutes remaining in the game.

It was then that Eldorado made their best and final bid, terminating with Whithier's two-pointer that cut the margin to 76-74 in the last 45 seconds.

Bearcats Shoot .444

Both teams connected 28 times from the field. Galatia's shooting percentage was best, however, as the Bearcats collected their 28 in 63 tries for a fine .444. Eldorado shot 81 times finishing with a .345 percentage.

Galatia hit 21 of 28 foul attempts, Eldorado 18 of 24.

Three Galatia players — Orto, Big Joe Upchurch and Sammy Duane — shined in 68 of the team's total points. Orto led the way with 28 markers. McRoy and Mackovjak sparked the invaders with 25 and 22 points respectively.

Coach Bob Farris' first line reserves — Don Hill and Larry Mankere — were both sidelined by illness. Hill came down with the mumps this past week and will be lost to the squad for at least two weeks. Mankere underwent a minor operation recently and will be out of action for a few days yet.

Last night's game gave Saline county basketball fans another preview of what is in store for them later in the month at the Saline county tournament to be held in Harrisburg's spacious Davenport gymnasium.

Thompsonville Rallies to Defeat Waltonville, 50-48

Thompsonville's Tigers clung to their unbeaten record in the Little Egyptian conference last night by rallying to defeat Waltonville, 50-48.

The Tigers entered the fourth period trailing the invaders, 41-36, but a whirlwind finish produced 14 points for the Munday-men while the visitors could tally but seven.

Thompsonville led 12-8 at the end of the first quarter, and the score was tied at 23-all at the intermission.

Four Cents More Pay in 1953 Costs Postal Worker $10.96

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Thomas E. Mockabee said today he didn't know if it was worthwhile getting four cents more in 1953 than he did in 1952.

Mockabee, a post office employee, said the four cent raise would cost him $10.96 if he files a short form income tax return because it boosted him into a higher tax bracket.

Globemaster
Flying Russian
MIG 15 to U. S.

TOKYO (AP)—A C124 Globemaster left Okinawa for the United States today with a cargo that included the Russian-made MIG15 that a North Korean pilot surrendered to the United States last September.

The Globemaster took off from Okinawa with the disassembled, crated MIG, several hours after the U. S. government publicly withdrew its offer to return the plane to its rightful owner.

"No one seems willing to take credit for being owner of the plane or to come forward and claim it," Gen. John E. Hull's Far East Command said.

The offer to return the plane had been drawn up in Washington in a move to make the Communists admit Russia gave the North Koreans and Chinese war equipment.

The MIG, which underwent flight tests on Okinawa, will be reassembled and given further tests at Wright-Patterson field, Dayton, Ohio, the Air Force said.

Railroads Get Pay Increase For Hauling Mails

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department today agreed to a 10 per cent increase in pay to the railroads for hauling the U. S. mail.

The railroads, which originally asked last June for a 45 per cent increase, scaled down their request to 10 per cent.

Postal spokesmen said a 10 per cent hike would amount to about 30 million dollars a year. The 45 per cent increase would have amounted to about 140 million dollars.

President Eisenhower is expected to recommend the action advocated by George.

Sen. George Favors Cutback in Social Security Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) said today Congress should cut the social security payroll tax rate back to 1½ per cent each on employers and employees "for at least two years."

The rate increased to 2 per cent Jan. 1, under the automatic stepup schedule in existing law.

George told reporters he favors holding the tax at the former rate because the "reserve is adequate to meet all calls on it for 5 or 10 years." The social security trust fund now exceeds 18 billion dollars.

President Eisenhower is expected to recommend the action advocated by George.

Major Issues Before Session Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The big issues before the second session of the 83rd Congress:

Taxes: President Eisenhower expected to recommend to Congress that it keep tax rates at about where they are now; House Ways and Means committee to go to work next week on a general tax revision bill that would mean some new tax cuts; administration expected to resist pressure from some members of Congress for another individual income tax cut.

Farm: Mr. Eisenhower planning to submit a special message to Congress Monday outlining a modified new agriculture program; present price support law on six basic commodities expires at end of this year; farm state congressmen expect existing law to be extended without much change, regardless of administration recommendations.

Taft-Hartley: Mr. Eisenhower planning to submit recommendations in special message Monday; many congressmen expect this to be a particularly controversial issue in this election year; Mr. Eisenhower expected to urge some changes advocated by labor, and others advocated by employers.

Social Security: Mr. Eisenhower expected to renew his recommendation of last year for broader old age insurance coverage; many congressmen also favor increasing benefits, which Mr. Eisenhower may recommend; some congressional sentiment for a minimum $45 a month pension to cover all over age 65, but most members expect this plan to get nowhere.

Trade: Present reciprocal trade agreements law expires June 12; Republicans split on question on whether higher tariffs on many items are in order to protect domestic industry; Mr. Eisenhower awaiting recommendations of study commission before making his recommendation on foreign trade.

Budget: Mr. Eisenhower planning to submit federal spending program for fiscal 1955 to Congress Jan. 21; administration reportedly has abandoned plans for balanced budget in next fiscal year.

Foreign Aid: Administration expected to recommend continuance of foreign aid program for another year, but on a reduced scale and with emphasis on military assistance.

Carpentier Lifts Ban on Library Books

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Thousands of books banned from Illinois State Library shelves because of reference to sex began moving back into circulation today.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier Tuesday lifted an order under which 6,000 to 8,000 volumes, including some 500 titles, had been placed under a temporary embargo by the library staff.

The state library distributes books to community libraries all over the state and to school libraries.

He said the library would "tighten up supervision" of adult books to see children don't get their hands on them, and will exercise more care in buying books for both children and adults.

The books had been taken out of circulation by Assistant Librarian Helene Rogers, following a directive by Carpentier to remove a novel, "The Boy Who Came Back," and all "similar" books of an "obscene" nature.

Carpentier, the state librarian, sent the directive as the result of a complaint from a mother whose school-age daughter obtained "The Boy Who Came Back" through the state library.

Carrying out Carpentier's order, the library staff removed books by the hundreds including many sex education books and the works of well-known authors like John Dos Passos, Ernest Hemingway, Dr. Morris Fishbein and others.

Carpentier said the library's professional staff now will follow a policy which will "make it impossible for school children to obtain smut or objectionable materials from the Illinois State Library" but which will not place "unreasonable restrictions on adults."

Peabody Installs
Diester Tabling
Plant at Harco

The Peabody Coal Co. yesterday announced the installation of a Diester tabling plant at its Harco mine to be used in conjunction with the present drying plant.

The company pointed out that its installation will improve the slurry to make a more merchantable product and will vastly improve fly ash conditions in that vicinity.

The foundation is in place for the new installation and erection of air equal to that contained in a room 10 feet square and 12 feet high.

Needs Lots of Air

For proper combustion, each gallon of gasoline burned in an automobile engine requires an amount of air equal to that contained in a room 10 feet square and 12 feet high.

There are an estimated 2000 types of corn.
